Introducing a new EBV Social Club.....

The EBV Biodiversity Club !

Discover the wonderful world of native plants, wildlife and biodiversity at the new EBV Biodiversity Club!

Led by Dr Fiona Hoegh-Guldberg, designer of the Elm Grove and Fasteners Way native gardens, the club is a chance to connect with nature, learn about the plants and animals that call our landscape home, and discover how we can help bring more biodiversity back to our neighborhood.

Join like-minded locals, hear from inspiring guest speakers and share ideas about creating a greener, more vibrant EBV.

An exciting guest speaker is lined up for November, so join the club for more information and exclusive updates!

Biodiversity fact of the month

From Dr Fiona Hoegh-Guldberg

"We are currently in the Wurundjeri season of Poorneet (tadpole season)! Temperatures have been rising as the daylight hours lengthen, with lingering rains. Look out for poorneets (tadpoles), the beautiful native blooms of flax lilies (guling), wattles (garrong) and yam daisies (murrnong), and butterflies and lizards (budjing) waking up from dormancy to bask in the morning sun!"
